Tax on Spirits-Elder Hastings-Supreme Coart - Immigration

Statistics. WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 .- In an editoial of the Boston Advertiser, of the 8th instant, appears the following statement: "At the last session of Congress ment: "At the last session of Congress the rate of tax upon spirits was increased flity per cent. The spirit tax should then have yielded nearly five million dollars more than during the first quarter of 1874 and '75, whoreas the whole gain in the Department is but two million dollars." This statement contains two important errors, one of fact, the other of inference, and both are calculated to mislead the public. Congress did not, at its last session, increase the rate of tax on spirits flity per cent. The increase was from seveney two to ninety cents per gallon, which is only twentycents per gallon, which is only twenty-five percent.

The certificates of deposit sent to the Commissioners show there was an increase in collections from Internal Revenue for the first quarter of the fiscal year of something over two million dol-lars. The returns from spirits have flot yet been received from the Collectors of the different Districts, so as to allow to be made the necessary comparison, to show how much was derived from spirits. The reports from spirits for the first quarter of the fiscal year of 1874-75, not including special taxes, were nine hundred and ninety-two million, eighty thousand, two hundred and eight dollars, assuring that the effect of increasing the rate of tax. effect of increasing the rate of tax should have been to increase the collec-tions in the same proportion that this rate had been increased. Even then, in-stead of a yield of five brillion, the rate should have been but little over half should have been but little over haif that sum, but three, or even six millions. It is by no means a sufficient length of time to test the operation of any marked change in the rate of tax, and particularly so when, as in the case of the late increased rate imposed on spirits and tobacco, the question of such increase had been agitated in Contress and out from the first day in Congress and out, from the first day of its session, until the day the act was passed. The ordinary and natural effect of such agitation and discussion was to stimulate the removal of the article to be affected by such increased rates and payment of tax thereon before it was made subject to such increase, and also to check for a time operations in the article. Afterwards, such was the actual

The ladies composing the Ladics' Centennial Association met at the Young Men's Christian Association Rooms this morning to take some further action concerning their part in the Ex-further action concerning their part in the Exposition of 1876.

A proposition was made to reconsider the action by which $5,000 was to be donated for the crection of buildings for the Ladies' Department at the Centennial.

A lengthy debate upon the subject followed. Coveiderable feeling has been elicited by the action of the Centennial Board at Fhiladelphia concerning the relation of the Ladies' Branch to the Exposition itself. The Board, at is claimed, after inviting the ladies to take part in the Centennial display and occupy space in the building, informed them at the last moment that they could not be accommodated with the space, and that they must, if they wished to exhibit, creet their own buildings.

It was for this purpose that githe $5,000 was voted by the Cincinnati society some weeks ago.

Owing to the dissatisfaction arising from this and other causes, the proposition was this morning made to reconsider the vote on this conation. After a long discussion, however, the proposition was rejected, and the meeting, after some other business, adjourned.

The Lexington City Council is the most unpopular body of men that has met since the organization of the city. No one has a word to say in their defense.

This city is without a Street Commissioner, and the three hands employed on the streets to see, then in repeir, spend one-half their time sitting on cellar doors. On Saturday we informed one of them, Mr. Charles Henry, about these charges. He quictly said he didn't care what any one said, and was as independent as his superious in office.

Majer M. C. Johnson, Gen. Wm. Preston and Privice Dennis Mulligan constitute the Hig Sandy Railroad Committee. Private Muligan is not very partial to railroads. While testifying lately in a railroad damage suit he said he "never knew of any good they were to Lexing on."

The declate between Rev. Mr. Fitch, of the Methodist Church, and Eider Walden, of the Chri tian Church, began on Monday at Nicholasvijue. There will be two discussions a day for no telling how long. Col. I. B. Sandusky, President of the Psycho Philosophic Society of this city, should be made Moderator. He would decide points of controversy more readily than any one in the county. decide points of controversy more readily than this city, should be made Moderator. It would decide points of controversy more readily than any one in the county.

Two hundred men are building the Southern railroad bridge crossing the Kentucky river.

The Young Men's Prayer-meeting was held lest suntay in the Mill-street Presbyterian Church. It was poorly aftended. The voung men of Lexington, let it be told to their shame, prefer to spend the holy Sabbath day sitting around livery stables, while another portion of them are off drinking whisky. They are as much strangers to piety as the Pagans are to Christianity.

Misses Sailie and Mary O'Hare, of Versailles, are visiting Miss Lizzie Moore, of Lexington.

The proposition to subscribe $260,000 to extend the Big Sandy railroad will meet with fierce opposition from the people of Fayette county, former subscriptions to railroads having proved very burdensome to the tax-payers.
